12 BOWLING LANES

Twelve new gleaming bowling lanes will greet you when you step on the floor tonight. These NATIONAL STREAMLINED Regulation Lanes have been leveled to within five to ten thousandths of an inch for accuracy. You'll find a wide choice of EBONITE BALLS in the racks—2 finger and 3 finger models in "Bates" and standard grips for ladies and men. And the tempered maple pins—rich in action and strike vitamins,—should make you roll at your best.

From the Management

Tonight we open our doors to show you as fine a Recreation Center as you'll find anywhere in the country. We have made every effort to provide Marion with the finest in equipment and modern appointments that bowling lane engineers and designers have to offer. We bought the building so we could remodel it completely for your sport and comfort. We installed modern lounge rooms, adequate check room facilities and meeting rooms for your team or league. We have provided comfortable lounge chairs, leather cushioned theater chairs for spectators, and upholstered bowling benches in a horse shoe arrangement. Bowlers will appreciate the streamlined bowling lanes, and tempered maple pins, the wide choice of ebonite balls; the non-glare lighting arrangement, the automatic pin setters and the all steel lockers. In short, we have done everything we could think of—if there's anything more we can do, please tell us.

I would like to meet you all personally tonight, as would "Ernie" Elmsle, my assistant; so, if you can't come in tonight, drop in tomorrow, Sunday or anytime and let's get acquainted!

Ragweed

My friend, Dr. Charles H. Eyer-mann, of St. Louis, who has long labored in the vineyard of hay fever and allergy, takes me to task in a friendly way for saying that ragweed was a perfectly useless plant, despised by all creatures. His researches have disclosed that quail eat ragweed.
In fact, that they eat it in preference to other foods.

For the quail the following provisional classes of palatability may be set up:

Class	Name of Class
I	Preferred Foods
II	Staple Foods
III	Emergency Foods
IV	"Stuffing"

Examples for Missouri:
Maiden, ragweed
Grains
Buckbrush berries, locust beans
Sumac berries (?)
This classification implies that grains are not eaten in quantity until ragweed becomes hard to get. In Clark County, in the middle of December, 1929, I worked intensively an area of several sections and found numerous coves so far from corn that they must have been subsisting almost entirely on ragweed.

Hay fever sufferers should aid in discovering animals that destroy ragweed. If quails do it there must be other destroyers.
This is of application to a campaign that I have been carrying on for some time to provide natural means of destroying the pest,
ragweed.

Agricultural experts think that ragweed grows best on the less fertile soils. Cattle avoid it in grazing, but goats, contrary to my statement, eat it without discrimination.

Model Airplane Contest To Be Held at Marion Airport Sunday at 2 P. M.

More Than 70 Entries Expected; 20 Prizes Offered by Merchants for Winners.

Plans were completed today for the first model airplane contest to be held at Marion airport Sunday afternoon. The contest will be open to all ages and will feature a variety of events. The contest is being sponsored by the Marion Gasoline Model Airplane club, which will include competition for both gasoline and rubber-band propelled models. The club officials predict that altogether there will be more than 100 planes taking part. The show is being staged by the club to stimulate interest in model airplane building as a hobby. The public will be admitted without charge.

The reason for Lipton's matchless flavor? 70 years of blending skill... combining choice teas (each selected for some distinctive quality) with those notable tea plants in Lipton's own Ceylon gardens.

WILLKIE TALKS WITH PRELATE

Campaigning in New England, Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, chats with Bishop Maurice McAuliffe of Hartford, Conn. Willkie made a major address in New Haven.

Plans will not be permitted on the landing field while planes are in the air but suitable observation facilities will be provided near the hangar, Mr. Haines reported. As other safety measures, only one model plane will be in flight at a time and no regulation planes will be permitted to land or take off at the airport during the show, he said.

Descriptions of the model planes and the various events will be announced over a public address system by members of the club familiar with model contests.

7,000 AT FAIR IN HARDIN CO.

Large Crowd Sees One-Day Harness Races; Final Features on Today.

Special to The Star
KENTON, Oct. 11 — More than 7,000 persons thronged the Hardin county fairground yesterday afternoon for the one-day harness racing program and about 5,000 were present last night, bringing the total attendance to 15,000 for the first two days of the first county fair since 1925. All schools in the county were closed today, last day of the exposition, and it was expected that some 3,000 boys and girls would be on the grounds. Special events for young people, including pony and mule races, were scheduled this afternoon.

Sixty-four exhibitors entered more than 2,000 items in the displays.

Horsemen from Kenton, Richwood, Marysville, Bellefontaine and Upper Sandusky worked out yesterday's harness racing program. Trophies were awarded the winners. In the two-heat pace for 2-year-olds a flip of the coin decided the winner, the turn going to Susan Dale, driven by Roof. Chuck Abbe, driven by Bewley, and Susan Dale, finished 1-2 and 2-1.

BRIGHTER OUTLOOK SEEN FOR LIVESTOCK

Increased Demand To Help
Prospects in 1941.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Stimulated consumption of meat as a result of the national defense program and a current packing industry promotional campaign may be expected in 1941 livestock trade market, experts said today.

These factors, they said, should serve to offset increasing population of cattle, accumulating stocks of hogs, dwindling foreign outlets for pork and lard, and the possibility of Canadian pork backing up into this country when the Canadian agreement with the British food ministry for shipment of pork to England expires.

In view of these facts government analysts look for a higher level of livestock prices in the coming year than that of 1939-40 period. Average cost of hogs last week was $6.26 per hundred weight, compared with $6.63 a year ago, a 1940 high of $6.73 and a low of $4.85. Steers averaged $11.43 last week, compared with $9.90 a year ago, a 1940 high of $11.70 and a low of $8.81. Lambs averaged $9.40, only two cents under a year ago, compared with a high of $10.50 on old crop lambs and a low of $8.25 on new crop lambs.

Although slaughter supplies of cattle are expected to be smaller during the remainder of the current year, more favorable consumption demand would be necessary to counteract the effects of the predicted increase in bovine population. Continued broad feeding demand affords an attractive outlet for both pasture and range cattle, market experts said.

Curtailed hog numbers this year put the 1940-41 hog market in a more favorable position from a supply and demand standpoint. Although lamb marketing this fall and early winter are expected to be somewhat larger as a result of the record 1940 production, world and domestic conditions tend to give the lamb and wool markets considerable support.

600 AT MORRAL COMMUNITY FAIR

Winners of Contests Selected as 2-Day Event Ends.

Special to The Star
MORRAL, Oct. 11.—Conductions in the United States and abroad were contrasted by Bob French of radio station WHKC in Columbus last night when he spoke briefly at the closing session of the annual Morral school and community fair.

He called attention to the fact that the 600 people present at the school last night had assembled without any feeling of danger but that in much of Europe such a meeting would be impossible. He also urged special emphasis on teaching Americanism in the schools.

He was the judge in an amateur show in which the following were winners:

Betty Baird of Marion, acrobat, first prize $10; Jack Corbin and others from Agosta, music, second prize $5; Betty Baird and Roseanna Baldauf of Marion, dancing, third prize $1; The Dawson Sisters, Trio of Sycamore, guitar and vocal, fourth prize $1; Barbara Leach of Marion, tap dancing, fifth prize $1; Sara Corbin and Lola Baumgartner of Marion, dancing, sixth prize $1.

Miss Alice Thornton, home economics teacher, who with A. J. Bishop, vocational agriculture teacher, directed plans for the fair, spoke briefly in appreciation of the work of the pupils and the community.

Winners in various contests were announced and received premiums and prizes.

OHIO HALL OF FAME TO ADD TWO NAMES

Pioneer Editor and Mansfield Man Honored.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 11.—Nathaniel Willis of Chillicothe and Frank G. Carpenter of Mansfield will be added to the Ohio Journalism hall of fame Nov. 1. Dr. James P. Pollard, director of the Ohio State university school of journalism, announced today.

Willis died in 1831 and Carpenter in 1924. Their names will be presented at the annual hall of fame dinner on the university campus.

The additions will bring to 39 the roster of the hall of fame, sponsored by the university.

Willis, a native of Boston, was editor-publisher of Chillicothe's Scioto Gazette prior to 1807. He was associated with the paper for seven years.

Carpenter, a world traveler and author, was legislative correspondent for the old Cleveland Leader.

Willis' name will be presented formally by W. E. Beeley, general manager of the Chillicothe Newspapers, Inc., publishers of the Scioto Gazette and News-Advertiser. Carpenter will be sponsored by W. A. Duff of the Ashland Gazette.

Ohio AP Newsman Relates Experience in London Raids

Robert E. Bunnelle, 37-year-old native of Urbana, O., who has been of his experience in a London raid on Oct. 10, has been in the Associated Press office in London since the summer of 1939.

By ROBERT E. BUNNELLE
By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Reichsmarschall Goering's Luftwaffe bombed the night out of bed this morning with a hit on one of London's largest apartment buildings.

Three bombs formed a triangle around my rooftop flat. One blasted a hole in a row of houses across the alley from my bedroom window.

A second struck the main entrance, smashing the lobby. The third landed at the nearest street corner, setting fire to a shattered gas main. The fire shot skyward like a burning gas well. It is still burning as I send this.

I had just returned home from the office last night after a nightmare mile walk and a two-mile taxi ride through glass-strewn streets with bombs dropping on all sides and shells bursting in the sky.

I met Mrs. Bunnelle in the lounge and we decided to retire as things seemed to be calming down.

The apartment porter joked about my jaunt from the office, during which I was forced to seek shelter three times, and laughed, "all you need to make the night complete is a hit here."

The next time I saw him in the wrecked lobby he was wrapped in bandages.

Daylight came half an hour after the bombs struck our apartment and as soon as the all-clear sounded everyone surged into the street to see the damage. It wasn't a pretty sight.

I walked a couple of blocks before finding a telephone that would work and called The Associated Press office and then returned to the apartment to catch a couple of hours sleep before I was due back at work again.

FOREST BANKER DIES, FUNERAL SATURDAY
Special to The Star
KENTON, Oct. 11.—Forest G. Brown, 52, cashier of the Hardin county bank at Forest for six years, died Thursday. Funeral will be held Saturday in West Jefferson, his former home. Surviving are his wife, and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown of West Jefferson.

ICELAND'S POTENTIAL WATER POWER has been estimated at 2,000,000 horsepower, little of which is utilized.

KENTON, Oct. 11.—Rural fire protection was assured six nearby townships today when representatives met and ordered a new Seagrave truck, to be housed in the Kenton fire department, manned by a Kenton fireman in the rural territory adjacent to this city, and operated at the fire by six volunteer firemen from each township. The truck will arrive in early February, 1941, according to Hugh Hamilton, chairman of the fire board.

Believe It or Not! There Are Just Seven Kinds of Hats

CALOT

By AMY PORTER
Associated Press Fashion Editor
Who says women's hats are crazy? Eve Tartar, analytical hat designer, has figured out that just as there are only seven basic story plots, so there are only seven basic plots for hats.

The most talented designer in the world can do no more than play variations on the seven themes, she contends.

The sketches above show the classic seven—tricorn, toque, turban, beret, pillbox, brim, calot. The photographs show this season's variations.

A true tri-corn, George Washington style, is this black diamond velvet designed by Lenore Kravitz. It depends for variety on gross grain, banding and a new-looking masquerade veil attached to the hat.

It's a turban without a doubt, but Walter Florell, the designer, piles the drapery high, toque-fashion, and, as a revolutionary touch, he makes it cover one ear, reveal the other. In ashy green jersey.

The beret is pulled into every sort of shape by whimsical hat designers. Here movie actress Lucille Fairbanks models a black felt beret, pulled sideways with a red velvet band, and fastened so with a gold clip.

The pillbox often appears unadorned, in classic form, but here it takes on new glamor with a tiny brim-trimmed brim, a cluster of milk falls swooping down from the crown. Earrings and necklace are of milk.

TOQUE

A variation on the toque, in sheared beaver. It has the characteristic toque clip over the forehead, but it takes on calot traits with a jersey back-of-the-head cap. A towering toque effect is achieved with the feather.

Is it a calot or is it a toque? Eve Tartar, the designer, says it's both, and typical of this season's pompadour hats. It combines a baby cap calot with the traditional black Persian lamb Cosack hat (a version of the toque).

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge learns how Jack Leslie's Defalcations at College Led to the Dismissal of His Roommate, Noel.

WATCHING Philip Veritzen's face as he recalled his early obsession that his son, Noel, should marry Olga's daughter, Olina, when the children should become old enough for marriage, I could understand how the obsession had developed into the madness which he admitted had once overcome him. His face was so ravaged, his eyes so strained that I should not have been surprised at any second to see him cross the slender boundary between madness and normalcy.

"The idea grew with the years," Philip went on. "Every fibre of my being, every energy was devoted to making that dream come true. And I spared no pains, no money, to fit my son for the high place I was determined he should fill."

"He was tutored and trained within an inch of his life, and so imbued was I with the idea of making him fit for royalty that when he went away to college I provided him with a roommate who never could have gone to college but for the money I gave him. I had planned that he should valet my son and be his bodyguard—of course no such arrangement would be permitted in any American college—but Jack Leslie was delighted with the idea—or appeared to be, as long as he could keep it secret and live in the luxury which I provided for Noel and himself."

"Jack Leslie," I gasped, although I might have guessed the name was coming. When I first had heard the story of Noel's college years, I had known that Jack Leslie was the rascally roommate who had permitted Noel to be expelled from college for a theft which he, himself, had committed, and of which Noel was not only innocent, but ignorant. But I had not known until this dramatic moment that the boy had been hired by Philip Veritzen as a companion and servant for his son.

"But I learned afterward, from classmates of the two boys," Noel's father went on, "that Noel never would permit the valet-bodyguard arrangement, but treated Jack as if he were a devoted and loyal friend. You know, I fancy, how Jack repaid that consideration."

Both Lillian and I nodded, for we well knew how Leslie, like many another man, soul had cherished a secret hatred of his benefactor from the moment of Noel's sacrifice in his behalf, and had lost no opportunity to injure him.

"I knew my boy was innocent at theft," Philip Veritzen said after a pause, "but when quixotically he would not defend himself against the accusation except by silence, because pointing out Leslie as the real culprit would involve an innocent girl, as well

SHE bakes better with Pillsbury's Best...

SO CAN YOU!

When you buy flour, remember these two facts: (1) baking can be no better than the flour you use; (2) flour can be no better than the wheat that goes into it.

Pillsbury's Best is carefully milled from a "balanced" blend of America's choice wheats... wheats that cost Pillsbury thousands of dollars extra every year.

Baking you do with Pillsbury's Best naturally reflects this wheat quality. It shows up in rich flavor, delicacy, appetizing fragrance, inviting appearance... Try Pillsbury's Best! We're sure you'll like it best!

Women's fine silk hose, silverware, watches, coffee makers, cast aluminum ware, and a host of other fine items of merchandise are yours in exchange for Pillsbury's BEST STARs. These Stars are packed in every bag of Pillsbury's Best—and also come with other Pillsbury products, too. PILLSBURY'S BEST FLOUR

"I CAN TESTIFY THAT PILLSBURY'S BEST IS FINEST FOR EVERY PURPOSE"
says Miss Julia Beno
of Cleveland, Ohio

"My mother is the bread baker for our family of ten, and has wonderful bread... so white and light. I make all kinds of cakes, and they are moist and fluffy. My pies are the finest; the crust is so crisp and flaky. I never have a failure."

"I bake delicious cookies, scrudel, and noodies, too. So I can really testify that Pillsbury's Best is finest for every purpose."

GUARANTEED
For everything you bake, every time you bake Pillsbury's Best Flour is made from a "balanced" blend of wheats, and has our money-back guarantee to give you perfect satisfaction in everything you bake... bread, cakes, biscuits, pastries... every time you use it.

Odds Are 20 to 1 You Won't Be Called First Year in Nation's Big Lottery

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—This year's drawing of the national lottery will be held in Washington, D. C., on Wednesday, Oct. 16. The drawing will be held in the presence of the president of the United States, who will be seated at the head of the table. The drawing will be held in the presence of the president of the United States, who will be seated at the head of the table. The drawing will be held in the presence of the president of the United States, who will be seated at the head of the table.

The public will be represented by the press, radio and photographers.
Many Hold Tickets
Nearly every man in the country between the ages of 21 and 35 will hold a ticket good for a year's service in the army if his number comes up early.
Here's the way the lottery works:
All men of draft age will register at polling places or schools. Their registration cards will be sent to the county clerk, who will distribute them to local selective service boards, located one to a county or one to each 30,000 of population.
The local boards, each of which will have not more than 5,000 cards, will shuffle them thoroughly and number them serially. Those serial numbers will be forwarded to Washington.
A copy of the numbers will be posted outside the board's office. Anybody can see them.
In Washington, a list of serial numbers will be made up long enough to cover the maximum length of any local board's list. Each number will be enclosed in a non-transparent, blue-lined capsule.
All the capsules will be placed in a big bowl, probably the same one used in the 1917 draft, and stirred with a ladle, again the same one employed 23 years ago.

Eight Hour Job
Some high official will be blindfolded to draw the first number. Other numbers will be drawn until all have been picked. The process is expected to take about eight hours, on the basis of the 1917 experience.
As they are drawn, the numbers will be rushed to newspapers and radio audiences. From the drawing a master list will be made up to read as the following example:
Serial number 135 is order number 1.
Serial number 2056 is order number 2.
Serial number 3359 is order number 3.
And so on down the list. Serial and order numbers will be the same for every one of the 6,500 local board areas.
Any man who has taken the trouble to learn his serial number can learn almost immediately his order number. Those who receive low order numbers will be the first to be called to service, unless deferred for family, employment or other reasons. Men will be called to service strictly in the order of the lottery numbers.

During the "double-shuffle" lottery process, selective service registrants need do nothing except wait, unless they plan to leave the jurisdiction of their local board for an extended time, in which case the board should be informed. Changes of address also should be reported.
List To Be Posted
Those who miss their numbers in the newspapers or on the radio will find the master list posted outside the board's office within five to seven days after the lottery.
Those who receive low order numbers should begin planning to leave home in 20 to 30 days in case of an army call, unless they have a reasonable belief that they will be deferred.
No one will be informed of his order number by mail. The first letter which every man receives from his local board will contain a questionnaire to be used in determining his availability for service.
Failure to receive the questionnaire is no excuse for not answering it. Mailing dates will be posted outside the board offices, and it is every man's obligation to see that he receives his form.
Questionnaires will be mailed in the order of the lottery numbers at the rate of about 50 a day in the beginning. If you don't receive yours, telephone or visit your local board.

CALIFORNIA WOMAN DECLARES

TRY THIS TASTY, EASY OVEN DINNER FOLKS

DINNER PLATE SPECIAL
2 pounds chuck beef, round
1 cup melted Spry
1 cup onion, minced
1 cup acid bread crumbs
1 cup catchup
1 medium potato, scrubbed, sliced, and rubbed with Spry
Combine ground beef and melted Spry. Add minced onion, bread crumbs, salt, paprika and mustard and blend. Add tomato juice and mix well. Pack in 8x8-inch loaf pan greased with Spry. Spread catchup over top of loaf. Bake beef loaf and potatoes together in hot oven (400° F.) 1 hour. Cut two small gauges at right angles across top of baked potatoes and push potato up through opening, squeezing gently. Sprinkle with paprika. Slice meat loaf and serve with baked potatoes. (Notice how crispy the skins are, rubbed with Spry before baking. Do this always—watch your folks eat them, skin and all). Serves 8.

NEW $36,000 BOWLING CENTER TO BE OPENED TONIGHT

To Start Operations on Second Floor at 295 W. Center St.

Marion's new bowling plant, the Palace Recreation center at 295 West Center street, will make its bow tonight with an informal program starting at 6 p. m., league bowling at 7 and open bowling at 9.

Al Shull of 859 East Center street, V. G. Case of Alma, Mich., and W. H. Tarr of Detroit, Mich., joint owners of the 12-lane layout, who also operate a plant at Alma, will be on hand to greet the public. Mr. Shull, who has made his home here since early in the summer, has taken charge of the organization of league bowling.

Installation of the plant has entailed more than the original estimates of $36,000. Alley construction began early in September and master craftsmen only this week began the application of the first of six coats of lacquer. By polishing and sanding between applications the lacquer provides the glass-smooth surface necessary for a perfect bowling lane.

Modern Equipment

Equipment includes single returns for bowling balls, making it unnecessary for bowlers to cross the neighboring alley to the return rack. Bowlers are provided with chrome upholstered circular benches, with chrome posts and ball stops. Seventy-five upholstered spectator seats are also provided.

Walls and ceiling of the interior are done in cream and the building is indirectly lighted. Lights are recessed in the ceiling so that the bowler's vision is not hampered by glare.

At the opposite end of the lane are spotlighted behind a maroon velvet drape which hangs within four feet of the alley surface.

Automatic Pin Racks
Gutters are stained in a natural cherry red and the division between the alleys is natural wood. All of the lanes are equipped with automatic pin racks, operated hydraulically and of the latest design.

Entrance to the center is at the northeast corner of the building on Center street. The lobby floor is asphalt tile blocks, mottled in black, brown and gray. Leading off from the lobby are large lounge rooms for men and women. A counter for the sale of soft drinks, candy and cigars has been erected in the lobby.

Schedule of Leagues
The schedule of leagues already organized or under organization includes:

Eric Railroad—12 teams bowling tonight at 7 p. m., headed by A. W. Baker, president.

Ladies League—12 teams bowling Monday, headed by Mrs. Karl Felskorn, president.

Marion Steam Shovel League—12 teams bowling Tuesday, headed by Marion Cole, president.

Alloy Cast Steel Co. League—under organization.

Businessmen's League—24 teams league now under organization.

With the announcement of the center's opening, Manager Shull reported that John Crimmins of Detroit, Mich., widely known exhibitionist, will appear here next Thursday night. Johnny set a world's record in a doubles match with Walter Shackett when he rolled 232-250-300, his partner getting 221-223-300 for a combined total of 1,545. Crimmins packed a 218 average in a Detroit league last year.

HOLYCROSS NAMED COUNTY RELIEF HEAD

Commissioners at Marysville
Fill Vacancy.

Special to The Star
MARYSVILLE, Oct. 11 — It was announced today by the Union county commissioners that Frank Holycross who has been employed in the office of County Engineer Walter Griffith, has been appointed to fill the place of County Relief Director W. R. Dayton while the latter is in military service.

Mr. Dayton is a first lieutenant of Co. E, 168th Infantry and will go on active duty next Tuesday. He has been granted a leave of absence by the commissioners.

Mr. Holycross has had general experience in relief work as he was head of the unemployment office when there was a county office here.

Mr. Dayton became relief director in January, 1938, and has made a splendid record for administration of the duties. His work has attracted statewide attention and some of his ideas have been adopted by the welfare department of the state.

Mrs. Blanche Hostetter of Richmond, assistant relief director, will continue her duties in the county relief office.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY LIKENS CHAPEL SOCIETY

Mrs. Clarence Gullford was elected president of the Likens Chapel Ladies' Aid society at an all day meeting yesterday with Mrs. Carl Finchbaugh of the Likens Chapel road. Others elected are Mrs. Vera Mae Seckel, vice president; Mrs. Ruthella Windsor, recording secretary; Mrs. Retha Showers, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Callie Bird, treasurer and chaplain; Mrs. Mary Alice McCurdy, reporter. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Birdie Hinamon and Mrs. Ollie Mahaffey. Mrs. Bird conducted devotions and offered prayer. Donald Lyon, pastor, was a guest.

'CHUTE TROOPS VISIONED

BOSTON — Benjamin Franklin's brilliant mind is credited with first conceiving the value of a "parachute army." Historic papers disclose that Franklin wrote in 1784: "Five thousand balloons, capable of raising two men each, could not cost more than five ships of the line; and where is the prince who can afford so to cover his country with troops for its defense as that 10,000 men descending from the clouds might not in many places do an infinite deal of mischief, before a force could be brought together to repel them?"

BEER LABELS COLLECTED

By The United Press
PORT ARTHUR, Tex. — A. W. Ivey is compiling an odd scrapbook. To date, his collection has 320 different labels from as many bottles of beer. Ivey says there are only 900 brands of beer and his present standing puts him within one-third of his goal. This estimate is true of United States beer only.

O. W. U. Students Want Dry Spring To Flow Again

Special to The Star
DELAWARE, O., Oct. 11—Ohio Wesleyan university needs a romantic spot on its campus and something should be done about historic Sulphur Springs. The Transcript, student newspaper, declared editorially yesterday.

Titled "Dry Issue Getting Dryer," the editorial objected to a situation which allows water to gurggle from the spring only twice a year on special occasions.

Seventeen years ago, the editorial explained, the Delaware Milk Co. began to pump water from the same vein which supplies the spring. Five years ago the spring went dry. Twice a year the company "shuts down its valves for a few hours when the school calendar says a special festive occasion is to be." The editorial says the spring then "bubbles with decorum."

"The spring used to be the place for Wesleyan men to plumb their throats—Since the spring ran dry so did the eagerness of prospective proposers—Ohio Wesleyan stands in sore need of such a spot," continued the editorial.

Mrs. Ross, Director of U. S. Mint,
To Be Luncheon Speaker in Marion

Nation's First Woman Governor Heads List of Guests at Democratic Women's Event Next Tuesday.

Part of the activities of the Division of the Marion Democratic club will be the luncheon of Mrs. Nellie Nellie director of the U. S. Mint, Tuesday, Oct. 15.

Mrs. Ross's visit to Marion is the first of her visit to the Women's Democratic club, which is sponsoring a luncheon for all women of the county. The luncheon, to be held at the Marion Hotel, will be at 12:45 p. m. Mrs. Ross will give a talk on the activities of the U. S. Mint.

Tickets are available from the Democratic women and also may be had at Hotel Marion. Reservations are to be made no later than Monday night.

Other Guests

Guests also will include Mrs. Mildred Jaster of Columbus, Ohio National committeewoman in charge of women's work in Ohio for the Democratic National campaign, and Mrs. Ann Makley of Columbus, and Mrs. Gail Jordan of Findlay. Eighth District Democratic committeewoman, Mrs. Makley is a past president and honorary life member of the Ohio Federation of Democratic Women's club, and is now in charge of the Women's campaign department of the state Democratic campaign headquarters.

Mrs. Ross is the first woman to hold the position of director of the mint and she also has other "firsts" to her credit. She was the first woman to be elected governor of a state and hers was the first woman's name to be engraved on a federal building. She served as governor of Wyoming from January 1925 to January 1927, succeeding her husband who died in October 1924.

Name on Gold Depositary

Her name appears on the bullion depositary at Fort Knox, Ky., where much of the government's gold is stored. Her profile also decorates a medal issued by the mint in 1935, the first woman's head to be struck on a medal. She directed women's work in the Democratic party for four years.

Mrs. Ross is on a five days' speaking tour in Ohio. She will come to Marion from Columbus and go from here to Lima, Fremont and Toledo.

Mrs. Clifford Stoll, acting president of the Women's Division will preside. Committees in charge of plans for the meeting are:

Arrangements for the meeting are in charge of the following committee: Tickets, Mrs. Lewis Uhl; Mrs. Lulu B. Arnold; Mrs. Carl Haberman; Mrs. Harry Halbach of Marion; Mrs. Oleta Kightlinger of Caledonia; Mrs. Samuel Almendinger of Prospect; Mrs. Charles Klingel of Waldo; program and publicity, Mrs. E. H. ASKS COURT'S ADVICE

By The Associated Press. TIFIN, O., Oct. 11.—City Auditor Robert B. Tiffin has asked the court for advice on a $2,318 check to Contractor Lester Morton of Tiffin and another for $8,954 to the Franco Stone Co. of Toledo, State, examiners said. The debts were illegal because there was no competitive bidding on the work done, but city council directed the auditor to pay because the city has received "full value." Beals asked common pleas court what he should do.

COMPLAINT FROM MARION IS RECEIVED BY NLRB

Examiner Sent to Investigate Allocations Against Italy Co. Oscar S. Smith, director of the Cleveland office of the national labor relations board, said today John Chapman, field examiner, has been sent to Marion to investigate an A. F. of L. Teamsters' union complaint against the Italy Dairy Co., according to an Associated Press dispatch. Smith said the union charged the company with refusal to bargain in a complaint filed Wednesday. Charles H. Isaly, head of the company, was out of the city today and could not be reached for comment. John H. Clark, attorney for the company, reported that it will make a general denial of the charges. He said the company also contends it is not under jurisdiction of the NLRB by reason that it is not engaged in interstate commerce. The complaint was filed by Thomas J. Coleman of 280 East Walnut street, business agent of Local No. 632, International Brotherhood of Truckers, an A. F. of L. affiliate. It involves two counts, the first charging the company with an unfair labor practice and the second with refusing to bargain collectively, according to Coleman. Smith said that if circumstances warrant a hearing, one will be scheduled.

NO AILING PERSON IN MARION AND VICINITY SHOULD DECLINE MY OFFER

I have been sent here by the Vendol Co. of Baltimore, Md., to introduce this amazingly successful Root, Herb, and Alkaline Medicine which has done so much good throughout Ohio and elsewhere.

Hundreds testify how my full strength Compound has given astonishing relief from many troubles associated with constipation or sluggish kidney action such as indigestion, sour acid stomach, gas, palpitation, dizziness, headaches, coated tongue, pains in back and limbs, if specifically due to constipation or need of a mild diuretic to the kidneys.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE

"I invite every sick and ailing man and woman in Marion and vicinity to visit me at Eckert's Cut Rate and get one of my free trial bottles of this grand Root, Herb and Alkaline medicine, Vendol. My regular full course size is $1.25 per bottle.

"Vendol has been sold here in Marion before and is well and favorably known to thousands who acclaim it as the best medicine they ever tried for the troubles for which Vendol is recommended. Now is the time to begin taking a good medicine, so that is why I want every citizen in this city and vicinity to have a chance to try Vendol and see for himself what it will do.

"My free trial bottle is sufficient to prove to you what Vendol will do, then you can decide whether to continue taking it. Isn't that fair? If you are constipated which makes you feel uncomfortable after eating and stuffed up from gas, sour stomach, acid indigestion, lump in your throat, or if constipation makes you feel dizzy, causes spots to dance before your eyes, gives you a coated tongue, bad taste in your mouth, unpleasant breath, and many mornings you awaken with a headache, get a bottle of Vendol and see how it will help you.

"If your kidneys are sluggish so that you need a diuretic action, and this makes your muscles sore and stiff so that you hate to go to work, just try my Vendol and see what grand relief it gives from constipation and the mild diuretic action it has on the kidneys, and see how those troubles will be relieved. If they are definitely due to constipation or need of a mild diuretic.

Don't Miss This Chance To Try Vendol Free

"Many people need a diuretic to help flush out their kidneys, and Vendol will act pleasantly for this purpose giving relief from many symptoms due to this cause. So, I hope you will come right down to Eckert's Cut Rate Drug Store and ask for me, the Vendol Man, and let me tell you all about my medicine.

VENDOL

Miss Vera Schumacher of Ocoila, Ohio, near Bucyrus, says: "I never had any medicine give such satisfactory relief from constipation, and then the gas in my stomach and acid indigestion were relieved. Vendol is fine."

Mr. J. C. Keller, well known resident of Gallon, O., writes: "I believe every muscle in my body was full of pain. I could hardly bend over, and my back felt as though it would break. Vendol gave me marvelous relief from constipation and acted as a diuretic to my kidneys and now all the pains are gone."

Mrs. Elizabeth Kober, who lives at Mansfield, Ohio, says: "I was constipated nearly every day which made me feel miserable. I had to hold on to something to steady myself, little spots danced before my eyes, my skin was yellow and full of little pimples. After Vendol relieved my constipation these troubles all disappeared and I feel great now."

"Now I don't know what you want a medicine to do for you but Vendol has helped thousands, and you will never know whether it can help you until you try it. In order that you may try it at no cost whatever, I have a supply of FREE TRIAL bottles that I'm passing out as long as they last starting Friday of this week. I know if the trial bottle proves satisfactory you will come and purchase a full course size for $1.25 and get complete benefit from my grand medicine."

"So come to Eckert's Cut Rate Drug Store; ask for me, the Vendol Man; I'll give you a trial bottle, explain all about it, and tell you honestly just how Vendol can help you. Come at once before my supply is exhausted."

BRICKER AND DAVEY SPEAK NEAR MARION

Governor at Mt. Gilead, Rival at Upper Sandusky.

Paths of Gov. Bricker and former Gov. Davey almost crossed today and yesterday in communities near Marion as the two gubernatorial candidates continued their campaigns.

Gov. Bricker was scheduled to speak at an ox roast in Mt. Gilead today, while Gov. Davey continued on his way after addressing crowds at Marysville and Upper Sandusky yesterday.

Highlight of his Marysville talk was a prediction that he would be elected Nov. 5 by a majority of 250,000 votes.

Some 200 heard him charge at Marysville that Bricker had starved the poor and fed the wild ducks of Lake Erie instead.

At Upper Sandusky he declared Bricker's neglect of the highways has increased accidents and charged a "cement trust" is in control of the department.

"I made enemies while I was in office," Davey said. "But let me tell you, no man can be a good governor unless he makes some enemies. In 1934 I stated that if elected I alone would be governor and would not be bossed. I make that same promise now."

Among those with Davey at Upper Sandusky was Kenneth M. Petri of Gallon, Eighth district congressional candidate.

ILLNESS IS FATAL TO FORMER TAILOR

Joseph W. Van Osten Dies;
Rites Set for Saturday.

Joseph W. Van Osten, 73, former Marion tailor, died at 8:30 last night at the county home of complications after a long illness.

He was born in Marion on Aug. 13, 1867 to William H. and Marilla Bridge Van Osten and was married to Miss Adah Burns who preceded him in death about three years ago.

Since her death until last June when he moved to the home, Mr. Van Osten had lived with a son, Darrell in Los Angeles, Calif. Surviving with the son are a sister, Mrs. Ellen A. Kerr of Marion and a brother, Z. B. Van Osten of Richmond, Va.

The body is at the M. H. Gunter & Sons funeral home where funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 Saturday. Burial will be in Marion cemetery. Rev. H. C. Ahrens of the Salem Evangelical and Reformed church will officiate.

POLL STANDINGS

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 11—Today's results of newspaper polls in Ohio:

Columbus Dispatch (statewide) Roosevelt 18,117, Willkie 19,460; Bricker 21,278, Davey 13,448.

They reported the caravan will pick up several cars at Delaware and possibly from other central Ohio cities. The caravan will arrive here about 10:30. Arrangements for parking are now being worked out. The veterans will come with gayly colored paper hats and banners to add to the color of the crowd.

In addition to the Columbus delegation, the War Veterans Republican club of Findlay has also signified its intention of coming. As Willkie's campaign plans moved forward in Ohio today, The Associated Press carried a statement by Mr. Ingalls, the G. O. P. national committeeman for the state, that Ohio Republicans particularly welcome President Roosevelt's inspection tour of the state today.

Ingalls said they consider it an indication the New Deal high command has concluded Roosevelt "is in the race for Ohio."

"It is significant," Ingalls said, "that the inspection trip which originally intended only one stop, Dayton, has now been expanded so as to include Youngstown and possibly Niles, Newton Falls, Ravenna and Akron."

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SERVICES SCHEDULED FOR TONIGHT

Columbus Minister To Speak at Trinity Church.

Dr. R. H. Throop of Central Presbyterian church of Columbus will deliver the sermon at the closing service tonight of the interdenominational young people's evangelistic services at Trinity Baptist church. Rev. and Mrs. Albert H. Heinz of Columbus will lead the singing. George Gardner, chairman of the promotional committee of the Trinity young people who sponsored the meetings, will preside.

Arthur Kellogg, Marion's blind musician, played in instrumental trios with Rev. and Mrs. Heinz when he was in Columbus and will join them in several selections tonight.

Last night the church was well filled for a service, which was preceded by a half-hour organ recital by Mrs. Heinz. Rev. Heinz sang request selections, including church songs which have been of particular influence in his life.

MORRAL SOCIETY MEETS

MORRAL—The Missionary society of the Morral Baptist church met Wednesday night with Mrs. Lula Mahan of west of town. A potluck dinner was served at noon. The president, Mrs. Nelson Snyder, had charge of the business meeting and Mrs. George Rogers led the devotions. Mrs. Nellie Mink presided for the program.

doctrine are given the third term they seek," he added, "they may yet succeed in making that theory come true. Then with no one else to work for, the state would be our only master, and the permanent unemployed would be in concentration camps. When you vote in November, make your vote mean that it can't happen here."

They seek, he said, "to excuse their own failure by telling us that the American economic system is a failure."

"They try to postpone their own finish by telling us that America is finished. The alibi is palpably false."

His Defeatist Attitude

Arguing that a "defeatist policy has animated the Roosevelt administration from the very beginning," Willkie quoted a statement from the Democratic national committee that "no man living" could fulfill his promise of jobs in private industry for all.

"There you have in one brief sentence the whole platform and the whole philosophy of the New Deal," he said. "With that philosophy, I emphatically disagree. On that issue I am happy to take my stand."

"If the New Deal means anything, it means that the New Dealers believe there is no future for America. That is precisely the philosophy that has made it impossible for the New Deal to solve our economic problems and no man who subscribes to that philosophy will ever be able to solve our problems."

"This is the theory that I deny, this is the theory that I am out to fight."

Referring that if he is elected, no man on relief would be dismissed until he found a job in private industry, Willkie added: "Not only will we continue federal relief as long as there is any unemployment, but we will improve it and expand it and make it mean more to the men on relief and to the public. In later speeches I will discuss unemployment relief in detail."

The nominee discussed tariff questions briefly, saying that the American worker "is entitled to full protection against the unfair exploitation of the enslaved labor of totalitarian countries."

Speaks Frankly

"I want to be frank with you," he continued. "I look forward constantly to the day when international tariff barriers will be reduced. I hope that in the years to come we can see the flow of international trade increased."

"But it is absurd and contradictory that we in America who believe in decent standards of living and who support proper wage and hour standards should permit the entry into this country of goods manufactured by the oppressed workers of the dictatorships."

Willkie said it was "shocking" that goods made by 13 and 14-year-old girls in Japan "should be sold in competition with goods which are made by free men in America who are supporting their families."

The candidate asserted that there would be no compromise with "totalitarian ideas and methods, either within this country or in our relations with other countries."

"We will defend America from within by giving our people jobs," he said. "We will defend America from without by making our national defense the strongest in the world."

In support of his contention that American industry still can expand, he said that "a whole stream of revolutionary inventions" had been made in the last decade and that "the new industries we need are here."

"All that is lacking," he continued, "is the courage and the opportunity to use them."

He then numbered as among the "unfinished jobs before us" the construction and modernization of homes, increased use of electricity and electrical appliances, and the placing of air conditioning "within the reach of our millions of people."

Gives Work For Future

Roads, bridges, elevated highways and high speed arteries are necessary, he said, adding that the airplane industry should be developed and railroads should be modernized.

Chemistry should provide new uses for farm products and new and cheaper materials should be developed for clothes and homes.

Closing his prepared address, Willkie asserted that "we cannot hide behind our oceans, using obsolete methods and obsolete machinery and an obsolete philosophy."

"The philosophy of the New Deal leads to weakness," he added. "Weakness leads to war. Under that philosophy we are being pushed toward war. We get closer to war every day."

"Only if we discard that philosophy, only if we set out energies free, can we prevent war. Our hope for peace lies in a strong America, in which every man has a job and every man has a future."

ELECTION TO DETERMINE FATE OF LEGISLATION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—The senate's disposition of two highly controversial pieces of legislation—Wagner act amendments and the Logan-Walter bill—appeared today to depend largely on the November election results.

Any action on these or other pending measures was excluded as Senator Barkley, Democrat of Kentucky, the majority leader, called the chamber into session last night with the announcement of intention of recessing it until Monday. The senate then will begin a series of perfunctory, non-quorum meetings every third day until Nov. 15.

SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS IN OHIO RATED HIGH

Nine Given All-American Listing by Judges.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 11—Nine yearbooks in high schools and colleges of Ohio were rated All-American today by the National Scholastic Press association.

The All-American critical service ratings, covering 852 entries from 45 states, District of Columbia, Hawaii, Alaska and Canada, included 120 All-Americans, cream of the yearbook crop.

Books published by undergraduate staffs in 650 American high schools and junior high schools, and at 202 universities, colleges and junior colleges were divided into competition classes according to enrollment, type of school and method and frequency of circulation.

Judging is done by a board of professionals in newspaper and magazine work. Besides All-American there were first, second and third class honor ratings:

Ohio honor books included: All American: Selmitar, Lorain High school, Lorain; Trojan, Portsmouth High school, Portsmouth.

First Class—Athena, Ohio University; Athens, Polaris, Lehman High school, Canton; Scoop, Jackson Twp. High school, Massillon; Massillonian, Washington High school, Massillon; Hi-O-Hi, Oberlin college, Oberlin; Rensselaire, Miami university, Oxford; Log, Vermillion High school, Vermillion; Echoes, Warren G. WORK STARTS SOON ON PLANE FACTORY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 11—A thousand workmen will begin construction of a $10,000,000 airplane factory on land adjoining Port Columbus within a month, Vice President Charles W. Loos of the Curtiss-Wright Corp., announced today.

The Columbus city council yesterday cleared the way for erection of the plant by granting the corporation a 25-year lease on the 100-acre factory site, for $1 a year.

Mayor Floyd F. Green estimated that the factory would be ready to begin production about April 1. Its output will be 1,700 planes annually.

The plant will comprise six buildings and will employ 12,000 persons. Its annual payroll is estimated at $15,000,000 for peak production.

Loos said that a majority of the employees would come from central Ohio and that training schools might be established for workers.

The Reconstruction Finance Corp. lent Curtiss-Wright $34,000,000 to finance plants in Columbus, Buffalo and St. Louis.

GERMAN PLANES PATROL RUMANIAN OIL FIELDS

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST, Oct. 11—A tightly packed formation of 150 planes, some bearing German markings and others Rumanian insignia, flew back and forth over Bucharest and the oil towns of Ploesti and Giurgiu today.

They swooped low over the British legation in Bucharest, where the staff was speeding its packing up.

EARTHQUAKE ROCKS LOS ANGELES REGION

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11—An earthquake which proved more frightening than damaging shook metropolitan Los Angeles at 9:37 o'clock last night.

Telephones were out of service for half an hour in Manhattan Beach, where goods fell from shelves in some stores.

Moviegoers fled theaters in Hollywood, Santa Monica and Redondo Beach.

But in suburban Westwood village, one movie audience remained unaffected. The shock came near the climax of a preview. On the screen, a blast was breaking a log jam.

Just as it exploded, the structure rocked. But by the time the watchers realized it was an earthquake and not the repercussion from the dynamiting, the shock was over.

and on Danube river barges via Yugoslavia.

2. In London, the British said information "which cannot be regarded as satisfactory" had been received from Sir Reginald Hoare, British ambassador to Bucharest. The London press demanded that Sir Reginald be recalled immediately.

3. Rumania's legation counselor in London quit his post and resigned from the Rumanian diplomatic service. He was quoted as saying: "I should never allow myself to be associated with the present Rumanian government which has surrendered to foreign power."

4. German official circles in Bucharest charged that Turkey has been commissioned by Great Britain to attack Rumanian oil fields by air. More and more, Turkey appeared as the next target of a heralded axis thrust into southeast Europe.

5. Amid an official "softer attitude" by Japan toward the United States, Emperor Hirohito of Japan reviewed a huge display of Japanese naval power off Yokohama—more than 100 warships and 250 fighting planes.

Domei, the authoritative Japanese news agency, said "great importance must be attached to this naval demonstration at the present moment"—an obvious reference to badly strained United States-Japanese relations.

Japanese foreign office spokesman Yukihiro Suma declared at a press conference that "responsibility people on both sides of the Pacific should be very calm."

Renewal of Tokyo foreign office talks with U. S. Ambassador Joseph C. Grew this week and a Japanese reiteration that the alliance with Germany and Italy is not aimed at the United States were noted among straws in the wind.

Concern Over Shanghai

Concern was aroused in Washington, however, by the possibility of trouble in Shanghai as the result of the slaying early today of the city's puppet mayor, Fu Siang-en, and a Japanese army officer.

Informed sources feared the assassination of the Japanese-sponsored mayor might occasion new Japanese attempt to take over the entire international settlement.

Advices from London disclosed yesterday that Britain and the United States are studying the whole question of cooperation in the Pacific, including the possibility of joint action in withholding war supplies from Japan.

The United States yesterday ordered reinforcements to Hawaii, called up 5,700 marine corps reserves and cut off delivery of 10 warplanes to Thailand (Siam), whose demands on French Indo-China are believed in some official quarters to be supported by Japan.

On the European side, President Roosevelt froze some $100,000,000 of Rumanian-owned money and secured in the United States to keep them out of the hands of the Germans.

TOTAL OF $2,120 NOW IN IRON LUNG FUND

Balance Over Purchase Price
Will Go to Hospital.

The sum of $2,120.27 is now on deposit to meet the expense of purchasing two iron lungs for Marion City hospital. It was reported today by Miss Lillian McCarthy, originator of the movement to buy the devices with public funds.

The two respirators, one the standard large size and the other an infant's size, will cost a total of $1,755. They are manufactured by the Drinker-Collins firm in Boston, Mass.

There will be a large freight bill, but it is expected that by the time all pledges are in there will be a balance of about $300 after the lungs are paid for, Miss McCarthy said.

The balance will be turned over either to Miss Margaret Parker, superintendent at the hospital, or to a trust fund committee, to be spent for further improvements at the hospital. Miss McCarthy said the transfer would be made immediately after the respirators have been paid for, since she does not want the responsibility of having the money.

The order for the two lungs has been confirmed, as of last Saturday, and it is expected delivery will be made by the middle of next week.

"I want to thank everyone who contributed to the fund," Miss McCarthy said today. "Everyone has been grand and every contribution has been so spontaneous that words can not express my happiness."

ELEVENTH PARALYSIS CASE LISTED IN MARION

Marion county's eleventh infantile paralysis case in less than two months was reported today when city health department officials quarantined the Sanders Bowman home at 336 Owens street.

The victim is the Bowman's 20-month-old daughter, Sandra, who attending physicians reported suffered only a mild attack of the disease and is not in serious condition. She has been ill one week but the ailment was not diagnosed as polio until yesterday when she developed a stiff neck.

struction of open drainage ditches. The 100-acre field of contest corn is in excellent condition compared with many other fields in this part of the state, which have suffered considerably from adverse weather throughout the corn season. The field is ideal for husking contests, with no fences to bother either the contestants or the crowd. As a matter of fact, there are few fences anywhere near the contest, so a full run can be run the full length of the field, which is about a half-mile long.

History of Farm

The contest field is located near the large nine-room house which has been the center of the 208-acre farm for some 35 years. The farm, one of the largest in this part of Ohio, has been in the Alexander family for more than a quarter of a century. For 20 years a member of the Buck family has been operating it, first the late John Buck for some 15 years and for the last four years his son, Ransom. Ransom, 30-year-old progressive farmer, started helping his father with management of the farm 10 years ago and on his father's death assumed the entire management.

The farm is owned by the widow of William J. Alexander, living in Sidiell, Ill.

In addition to running the huge farm, Ransom has 120 acres of his own which he operates. On the Alexander farm, in addition to a diversified crop plan, he has 200 sheep and 50 cattle. Helping him with the task of handling the farm are two regular hired hands, plus three tractorists.

Crop Yields

Average crop yields for the Alexander farm are: corn, 60 bushels an acre; wheat 25 to 30; oats 30; soybeans 25 to 30. The yields this year are above average, a member of the committee reported.

Living on the farm also are Mr. Buck's wife, Anna Lee, and their daughter, Linda Lee, 2½ years old.

The farm is located on the Irvin and Shouts road near Morral about nine miles northwest of Marion. About the best way to reach it is to go west from Marion on Route 30-S to Big Island, turn right at Big Island and go north to the third side road. Turn left and go west for a mile.

The routes will be well marked during the next week or so, making it difficult for any one to miss the way. State patrolmen and representatives of the sheriff's office will be on hand to help direct the traffic and handle the crowd. Nearby roads are all in good condition.

Parking space at the farm will be plentiful. Some 80 acres of pasture and clover have been set aside for spectators' cars. CCC boys may help with parking.

First Aid Tent

There will also be a first aid tent set up with the supervision of the Red Cross.

For the convenience of spectators on the second day, D. A. Brown of Marion has donated a public address system.

Incidentally, plans are under way for radio station WLW to broadcast part of the proceedings direct from the farm.

Heading the scores of committeemen is the five-man general committee, which includes in addition to Mr. Davidson as chairman, Harry W. Hoch, John W. Ruth, H. H. Beninger and Calvin W. Baldinger.

Chairmen of sub-committees are: publicity, Melvin Kennedy; finance, Robert E. White; education, Milford E. Schmidt; equipment, Paul Augustenst; grounds, C. K. Kline; health, Eugene H. Willey; police and parking, Sheriff Fred Miller; highway traffic control, Corp. W. B. Mariner of the state highway patrol; machinery demonstrations, Luther Mitchell; personnel, C. B. Casto; concessions, Ralph E. Epley.

TRAIN CREWS POSE DRAFT PROBLEMS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—Selective service officials said today the question of how passengers and crews aboard trains and lake boats are going to register for the draft next Wednesday posed a troublesome problem but they refused to assume responsibility for finding the answer.

Major Edward S. Shattuck, chief of the selective service system's legal division, said: "The law contemplates that all persons eligible must register on Oct. 16, and everyone is going to have to make some sacrifice, however small, in order to comply. If that means delaying a train journey or a day's stopover for some people, they'll just have to accept the situation."

He said that while the law provides for late registration in the case of persons who are out of the country or who are too ill to do so on the scheduled day, others who deliberately delay their registration will have to take their chances on whether the local selection boards regard their excuses as valid.

CRESTLINE MAN HURT

By The Associated Press

WOOSTER, O., Oct. 11—Two Pennsylvania railroad freight trains collided six miles west of here yesterday, injuring three crew members. Frank Miller of Crestline suffered a fractured hip; Ward Laughlin of Canton fractured ankle, and Devolto Law, also of Canton, a broken leg.

CUFFIN'S SCORE GOES UP

COLUMBUS, Oct. 11—Additional returns on cupid and the draft: Franklin county marriage licenses to Oct. 1 numbered 2,425, ahead of a like period of 1939, 424 ahead.

and months of anxious waiting on the part of his wife and three children. Carol E. and Sue, 12, girls at St. Mary's Parochial school, and a 19-year-old son, Emerson Griffith. His father, Elmer Griffith of DeGraff, was about the happiest man in Ohio Wednesday night when his son and family surprised him with a visit.

Mr. Griffith is the last man home from the Shovel Co.'s foreign field.

He was a hungry man yesterday noon. When he awakened at 11 to see a reporter he signed happily that it was the best night's sleep he'd had in months and he admitted that at his father's home the night before he'd eaten until he couldn't eat more—home-cooked food after nearly two years of foreign cooking and sometimes not too much variety of that.

New Experience

Being in the Shovel Co.'s foreign field wasn't new to Mr. Griffith—prior to going to Greece he had been a service man in Turkey and the Philippine Islands—but being trapped was a new experience, and one he isn't anxious to meet up with again.

After he got to Greece way back in 1939, the company cabled him to go to Turkey on a job, and then began the odyssey. He finished that job and was sent to northern Greece, Macedonia, and then to the extreme south of Greece on another assignment. Sent back to Turkey, he received a wire to be in Manila on Dec. 10, and to travel by way of the Suez Canal and Port Said. Before the time came to leave he received a cable to report at Bucharest in Rumania. After several weeks there he returned to Turkey and received another cable to come to the United States but to leave his address in Athens, Greece, before sailing. In the meantime he had contracted malarial fever. By the time he recovered he had mislaid the boat and he returned to Bucharest, and then went to Transylvania.

Then To Bessarabia

After six weeks there he was sent to Bessarabia on the Russian frontier and then back to Bucharest. There he received a wire to go to Greece and help on the sales end of the Shovel Co.'s business until four machines sold to Russia arrived. Next he was sent to Istanbul in Turkey and then back to Athens, where he received a cable to take the first ship out of the country. He booked passage on the S. S. King Carol sailing out of Constantinople, Rumania.

He boarded the ship and woke up the next morning to find the ship back in Constantinople, under orders not to sail. Back to Bucharest he went, but no passenger planes were flying, since Russia had occupied Bessarabia.

Finally—last June he went back to Athens, made reservations on a Greek ship for Lisbon. Before the ship sailed he was notified by the American consul that he would be subject to a heavy fine if he took passage on a Greek ship through Mediterranean waters.

The Italians were looking for a Greek ship and the Mediterranean was about the hottest spot in the world for a Greek ship at that time.

Stranded Seven Weeks

If war had started at that time Mr. Griffith would have been stranded for certain, he said yesterday in discussing his odyssey. As it was he was stranded for seven weeks in Tsalolinas, Greece, near the border of Albania. War was in the air and he could get no transportation out. Taxis had been commandeered for army service. One glimpse of home came after about four weeks, when he finally did get a taxi, but then Italy moved in on Albania and he was really stuck in Tsalolinas. Finally transportation opened up

Praise for Nation's Defenders Comes from Marion Man's Sister in England

Praise for the men who are fighting for the preservation of life and country and also for the king and queen of England was voiced in a letter giving an interesting account of life as it is in Great Britain these days, received by Joseph Dennis of Chelsea avenue from his sister living at Lincoln, England.

The letter, written Sept. 18, was the first "censored" letter Mr. Dennis has received from his sister, and was acknowledgment of wedding pictures of Mr. Dennis' granddaughter, Mrs. John W. Watters, who was Miss Eunice Dennis before her marriage last summer.

The writer described the days as anxious and upsetting but assured her brother that she and her family were "all right." London has had a "terrible time," she said and expressed the opinion that "the" (meaning Hitler) is getting beaten and "we shall surely win."

"We keep having visits from him," the letter said, "but up to now he hasn't done much damage around here. A week last Friday we had the siren all night and the all clear went about 4 so we all went to bed as we now thought in peace, when a single bomber came and it flew right over the house, just missing, I'm sure, the chimney tops, by the sound of it. In the morning we discovered a hole not far from our house where a bomb had fallen. You could easily have put a house in it, it was so big, out it happened to drop at the side of some new buildings and no one was hurt." The bomber was brought down before he got much farther, the letter stated.

The foundries still are "O.K.," the letter said. The writer was anticipating the dark nights "which will soon be on for us," when all windows are darkened. The family has no "shelter" and when there are signs of danger they go downstairs. Sleeping is rather difficult because of the drone and hum of the planes, which is not noticed so much during the day when they are at work. "It is all so nerve wracking, but so long as he win, and with God's help we shall."

"Nobody in the world has a finer lot of men than the British," she wrote in paying tribute to the "fine lot of pilots, sailors and soldiers" of the empire. "Too awful to describe," was her comment on London's sights. "Isn't he a wicked man to ruin people's homes and lives?" the letter queried.

"Fine people" was her description of the king and queen, who she said, "don't need any body-guard to shield them as Hitler does. They just go about to see the wreckage that has been done."

Lincoln is located 20 miles from the east coast of England and is 100 miles northeast of London.

PROGRAM PRESENTED BY CAREY CHURCH SOCIETY

CAREY — The Women's Missionary Society of Christ Lutheran church met Wednesday at the church. Mrs. F. A. Galbroner had charge of the devotion and Mrs. William Pontius the lesson study. The missionary quiz was conducted by Miss Stella Nye. Mrs. Loren Stahl was made a life member of the society. Mrs. Keller was elected delegate to the western conference convention of the Women's Missionary society Oct. 22 at 23 at Bellefontaine and Mrs. Galbroner was elected alternate.

The Carey Band Mothers have elected officers as follows: president, Mrs. L. N. Zahn; vice president, Mrs. Harry Mapes; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Ora Kidwell. Mrs. L. L. Culler entertained the members of the 1900 club Thursday at a 1 o'clock luncheon. The afternoon was spent with contract bridge. Guests of the

Barker Casts Shaky Ballot for Ohio State, Favors Notre Dame, Fordham

Dopester Also Likes Duquesne, T.C.U., Southern Cal, Penn, Nebraska.

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Playing the weekly game of football blind man's bluff.

Notre Dame-Georgia Tech. The Engineers lately pulled last year's game out of the fire and here a fast, tricky squad to South Bend again. There's real danger for the Irish here, but the vote goes to Notre Dame.

Harvard-Michigan Since Harmon apparently is out to eclipse his brilliant 1939 record, there's no possible choice but Michigan. Fordham Tulane If Boyle and Groves the first-string guards can play, Tulane's Green Wave might roll as it was supposed to before the season started. The latest word is they won't be in shape so Fordham.

Pitt-Southern Methodist S. M. U. Illinois-Southern California A sheer guess, Southern California.

North Carolina Texas Christian Texas Christian gets the nod. Duquesne-South Carolina Duquesne.

Villanova-Florida Villanova. U. C. L. A. Texas Aggies The Aggies.

Northwestern-Ohio State Who brought this up? The Wildcats' line supposedly was a doubtful quantity but there wasn't anything wrong with it against Syracuse. It's a gamble at best and the indicator spins and points to Ohio State.

Army-Cornell This ballot for Cornell expresses doubt that Army is equipped to do more than keep the score within reasonable bounds.

Stanford-Santa Clara The nod goes to Santa Clara. Clemson-Wake Forest No tougher one on the card but Wake Forest gets a Shaky ballot.

REDS' SHORTSTOP TO HUNT IN HARDIN CO.

Billy Myers Buys Dog from Dunkirk Man.

Special to The Star KENTON, Oct. 11.—Billy Myers the Cincinnati Reds shortstop purchased a purbred pointer female from Ewing M. Bonnell.

Dunkirk sportsman this week while enroute to his home in Pennsylvania. The animal will head the bird dog kennel Myers is establishing. At the same time Myers arranged with Bonnell to join Pilechors Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer of the championship Reds in Hardin county on the first two days of the hunting season. They will be Bonnell's guests.

Olen Boucicault the splendid Irish Setter that won nine championships for Bonnell last summer, was sold to Dr. Waugh of Cleveland for approximately $300 and immediately was entered in the Chicago show. The Clevelanders said he would attempt to finish the dog's championship of 15 points yet this winter.

Snatches of Sports

By EDDIE BRIFT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Two football teams that ought to come back tomorrow are Nebraska over Indiana and Tulane over Fordham. Open on around here is if the Yankees had been in there instead of Detroit. The Red pitching would have stopped em. La Marle the tennis queen takes up football adreasing tonight. She'll go on WNEW here and try to pick tomorrow's winners. Tomorrow night she'll be back to compare her selections with the actual scores.

Notes of the Bah Bah ers

Durned if Michigan's Tom Harmon ain't getting more space around here than the eastern mail today. Every footballer has his own way to warm up before a game, but Don Greenwood of Illinois U takes the cake by walking around the field on his hands. Paul Hill-sow vick Illinois half back, throws and bats in baseball and shoots in basketball with his right hand but punts 50 yards with his left foot.

Short Shorts

Of course, we haven't been around here much lately but the only expert we saw who came right out and picked Fritz Zivic to win the daylights out of Armstrong was old Joe Donovan of the New York Herald. The Florida Auburn football game will be played at Columbus Ga. which reminds us that not so many years ago the Alabama state golf tournament was held at Pensacola. Fla. Pacific Lutheran college has two very good guards who are quite inappropriately named Lawrence Jungk (pronounced Lawrence) and Don Slippy. Wallace Wade is not as tiling as you'd think after the Duke defeat since his son sold headache powders last summer.

Omigosh

If you don't believe, last week's Ohio State 17-14 win over Purdue was close just read the opening paragraph of the Columbus Citizens football extra.

A fast and shifty Purdue eleven held Ohio State's Buckeyes to a tie in the opening Western Conference game for both teams this afternoon.

How Come?

Jimmy Wilson who was at least 58 per cent of all the heroes they picked in the World's Series, doesn't appear in this year's Who's Who in Baseball III.

Irish All Set to Invade Fostoria Saturday Night

A vacation from their regular workouts was in store for Marion St. Mary gridders today when Coach Bernard Berens suddenly pronounced his charges in shape for tomorrow night's game at Fostoria St. Wendell. By his action Berens indicated either he was pleased with what he saw in daily workouts Monday through Thursday, or that his proteges less has added to their appetite for a victory. Murphy's illness may put a youngster by the name of Moleoney in his post tomorrow while other spots in the backfield will be taken by regulars Terzo, Schuler and Rochford. Ed Herneise the unfortunate chap who suffered a broken leg last year against Forest and got back into the game for the first time this year at Forest may get a starting post at Fostoria. Estimates of his defensive work indicate that he may replace a regular lineman.

Harding vs. Toledo at 7:45 Tonight

Marion Harding gridders tee off tonight at 7:45 in Harding stadium against Toledo Woodward. The Presidents will be seeking their tenth straight win under the leadership of Coach Bill Williams. If their efforts are crowned with success it will be Harding's fifteenth grid contest without a loss. The locals are favored to stop the visiting Polar Bears but in Coach Williams' own words "Every ball game is tough until it's won."

BRADLEY CALLS SESSION TO DISCUSS VITT FATE

By The Associated Press CLEVELAND, Oct. 11.—The Cleveland Indians management took the position today that it doesn't need to put a dismissal slip in Manager Oscar Vitt's pay envelope.

Alva Bradley, president of the club scheduled a directors' meeting for Oct. 28 to do something about the pilot's job and said "Question is not whether he (Vitt) will resign but whether we will renew the contract. It seems to me there is an important decision there."

"As I understand the contract there is no such thing as a manager resigning unless, of course, he does so during the season."

Vitt has said since returning to his California home that he would not resign because "I am not a quitter."

4TH FRAME CENTRAL SCORE STOPS VERNON

Uptowners Continue Drive for Title, Win 6 to 0.

Central Junior High gridders scored a touchdown in the final quarter to bury Vernon 6 to 0 yesterday afternoon at Harding stadium. The win kept the Uptowners' perfect record intact and greatly increased their chances of marching to the fourth straight city title.

Central's winning touchdown came after a muddled march from midfield. Fullback Fred Perry plucked the last two yards over center for the score. The try for extra point failed. In the closing minutes Vernon staged an aerial comeback that took them deep in Central territory.

Passes Kibbourne to Fazio closed off any hopes on the line one which would have earned the score as dropped in the end zone by the potential receiver. Only other scoring threat of the game was in the second period when Central added to the Vernon 20 before offside penalties nullified its offense.

In previous junior high games Central defeated Edison 18-0 and Vernon topped the West Siders 12-0. Next week the junior high teams will move into the second half of their schedule with Edison and Vernon meeting for the second time Thursday at 4 p. m.

Summary of yesterday's game follows:

THREE OHIO COLLEGE GAMES SET TONIGHT

B. G. at Findlay, B. W. Takes on John Carroll

By The Associated Press A half dozen Ohio college football teams will see action tonight—five in a trio of games on Ohio gridirons and one in Chicago.

Two Ohio conference rivals clash as Bowling Green invades Findlay. Baldwin Wallace tackles John Carroll in a Big Four loop inaugural at Cleveland.

Washington and Jefferson college of Washington Pa. comes to Ohio to engage Muskingum at New Concord.

Wilberforce and Tuskegee institute renew in 11-year old Negro college rivalry on Chicago's Soldier field. Last year Tuskegee upset Wilberforce for its third victory of the series. Wilberforce has won four games and three have been ties.

Youngstown college's Penguins found a foggy field to their liking last night and whipped across 32 points in the second half to trim a visiting Westminster college squad from New Wilmington Pa., 44-0.

Special Features Billed For 10th Anniversary Mat Show

LaRance and Knutson To Scrap for "Title" in La Night Bout.

Promoters of the Marion wrestling shows Paul P. Marzetti and Harley Lewis, will celebrate their tenth anniversary in staging mat carnivals next week. To mark the occasion they've arranged a special offering which combines a variety of features, for Monday's show at the Marion Steam Shovel gymnasium.

No 1 is a man go billed as a championship fight. No 2 is the observance of "ladies' night. Every woman will be admitted without charge. No 3 is a cut in general admission on prices from $5 to 35 cents.

They've gone the limit to make it a grand birthday party promising to give Jules (Speedy) LaRance and Gil Knutson the pair of Canadians due each other for junior heavyweight honors.

Jules if you been following the sports pages, claims the title by a recent win over Knutson at Columbus and Gil is out to regain his "lost" laurels.

They'll weigh in the neighborhood of 190 to 195 pounds and both are as fast as greased lightning. Knutson was a winner in his last week main go out it has been many months since Jules has made an appearance here. He shoves his bald knob through the ropes of the ring at half's acre in Columbus quite often and is considered one of the toughest of the current crop of pug ughes there.

They'll go to bat in a 90-minute tussel too falls deciding the winner. LaRance has signed to risk his claim to the junior heavyweight crown and Gil intends he can lift a right off the turreted brow of his fellow Canadian.

TRADITIONALLY AMERICAN

The United States of America is a very young country, only 162 years of age. But it is the oldest, constitutionally democratic in the world. Within the frame work of one economic system, Agriculture and Industry have grown to the highest standard of living ever known.

The tradition of Wiedemann's Beer extends back over nearly half the years of the nation's independence. George Wiedemann brewed the first cask of Wiedemann's beer in 1870. Four generations of his family have continued the business, using his original formula, following out the fine traditions that he established. That's the reason Wiedemann's is called for in thousands of American homes where it has been a favorite for almost three quarters of a century. Ask for Wiedemann's by name.

THE ROAD TO SHANI LUN

by Rita Mottler Hanson

YESTERDAY: Lynn Britton has failed in one last attempt to escape from her captor, Temu Darin, who is taking her to the Prince of Shani Lun in the Mongolian desert for what Lynn supposed at first was a mere visit. Now Lynn is sitting atop a speeding camel, almost in agony from the heart's racking gas, yet still unable to get the thought of dark Temu Darin out of her mind.

CHAPTER 14 Camp At Last

THE caravan was soon among the dunes, traveling sometimes between the ridges, but more often up and down, and down, over the high-peaked mounds of yellow-gray sand.

By camping time Lynn was so wrenched and tossed and twisted that she didn't care whether she lived or died. They stopped in a level canyon between two mountain-high old dunes on which a bit of vegetation had taken root. Here where a well had been dug a small caravan on its way to Eastern China had already camped. The men were drawing water with a goatskin bucket.

Lynn's mount collapsed by joints back and forth like a vibrating bridge and with a final, peevish, groan dropped to her knees. As Lynn slid off, the spy, old Duchess came trotting up and led her to the dining tent. Lynn sank into a comfortable canvas chair and groaned a bit as the camel had groaned.

"How do you feel, incarnate Tara?" Temu asked.

"Anything but a goddess," she replied and closed her eyes. She was so absolutely miserable that tears wet her lashes.

"I'm sorry," he said, sitting down in a chair beside her and bending forward to scrutinize her.

face. "We'll see that you get a good hot bath tonight to take out the soreness. In a few days you'll be feeling fine."

She tried to smile but her chin quivered.

He lifted one of her hands, spreading it out in his and looking at the beautifully kept pink nails. He and the Duchess discussed the hand. Then he explained to Lynn.

"The Princess Mother has two nails on her left hand as long as your index finger."

Lynn marveled. "What care she must take of them."

"She is a lady from the imperial family of China and brought a large retinue when she came to Delun forty years ago. You will find many old Chinese customs at the court. The Princess Mother is gentle and retiring and she paints and writes poetry. She had no children, but her husband's Mongol wife bore him a daughter who is married and lives at the court."

"Married to you?" Lynn asked with more sharpness than she had intended.

"I wasn't eligible. She is married to the Duke of Sachin, a man from Eastern Mongolia." And in answer to the question she had asked indirectly, he replied, "I am not married. There are many unmarried men in Mongolia but no unmarried women that I know of. It is a country that breeds men."

"It is a hard country," said Lynn, aware once more of her pain-wracked body.

He rose. "Your tent is ready now. Let Little Bamboo take care of you."

That night Lynn managed to place a letter, a duplicate of the one she had written in Pail Shu, in the hands of one of the Chinese camel-pullers of the caravan camped near them. The possibility of learning the nature of the difficulties between Dick and the Prince made her desire to go on with the journey. But, this something was a move she felt compelled to make in her personal feud with Temu Darin.

New Caravan

The next day was not so bad. Perhaps, she reasoned, her poor body had become inured to the unaccustomed swaying. Her consciousness felt suspended in a queer kind of objective acceptance. In the way she imagined a saint must feel, taking everything without resistance.

Dust and cold, the absurd antics of the camels, the peculiar music of the trail that rang in the camel bells, the song and laughter of the men urging the caravan through the shifting lights and shadows of the interminable dunes, the sharp points of their crests, reminding her of the backs of mighty, yellow dragons—all there were a part of an experience not fully realized.

The Duchess led the tentmen on her fast-paced camel, but Lynn and Temu stayed with the slower-traveling pack animals.

Early in the afternoon, on a wide, gravelly bench between two sand ridges, they met a traveling committee of lamas; a pony caravan in search of an incarnate saint. Temu and Lynn dismounted and sat on the ground, lotus-fashion, to visit with them. Their leader, a priest in faded, yellow robe, related his story to Temu who in turn told it to Lynn.

They came from a white monastery on a red hillside in the Tiger mountains. Several years before, the spiritual head of the monastery had died, and prognostications now indicated that somewhere on the steppes east of this point he had been reborn in a Mongolian camp or settlement. They would go from tent to tent displaying a little collection of bowls and flutes and rosaries. One of each had belonged to their saint, and was a treasured possession. When they found a boy child who could pick out the proper articles from the collection by memory, they believed they would have found their leader again.

"Mightn't his parents object?" Lynn asked wonderingly.

"The parents will give him up gladly and feel honored that he was chosen."

She remarked skeptically. "Then, if it's such an honor, aren't certain children sometimes assisted in the selection of the right article?"

Temu grinned. "These people are human. But sometimes beggar children seem to prove their rights to the positions and get them. I could tell you of some remarkable incidents."

He turned to the leader of the monks again. Lynn looked about. The gravelly bench on which they sat merged into a sea of dunes stretching to the rim of the inverted bowl of the sky. A yellowish-lavender light at the horizon and a fathomless blue at the zenith. Disappearing on the skyline into the Gobi solitudes, the caravan wended its way like a string of ants across a mighty furrowed field.

In Lynn's immediate presence, the two camels belonging to Temu and herself, and the six ponies belonging to the priestly cavalcade, drew up in the February sunlight. A monk brewed tea over a tiny argol fire, the smoke of which rose straight into the clear heady atmosphere.

Strange Dream

Lynn's thoughts raced. What is this, a dream, a memory, or is it a fact? Here am I, Lynn Britton B.A., from San Francisco, California, U.S.A., sitting on a stony desert road beside a cosmopolitan-spirited, scar-faced young

INTENDED AS A BITTER PILL—FOR AN ENEMY

At least one "John Public" inspects first-hand a bomb-resistant pillbox demonstrated to Mongol waiting for tea to be served by a group of simple, more or less devout monks in search of an incarnate saint.

"Who is the saint they seek?" Lynn asked Temu Darin.

"Maitreya, the laughing god." Her eyes began to twinkle. "You're sure they're not looking for Tara?"

"Does one of these bowls or flutes or rosaries strike a cord in your memory?"

"But the idea of a white monastery on a red hillside in the Tiger Mountains fits into my dreams. Are memories and dreams so different?"

"Sometimes they are the same thing. And in the timelessness of the dream state, we frequently remember the future which has always existed along with the past. White monasteries may be stations on your journey, Tara Lynn, but a monastery is not the end of your road."

She gave him a sardonic glance. "I suppose you think a palace in Delun is the end of my road."

"Is it not?"

"I shall not go to Delun except of my own free will. A lilac tree is the end of my road."

His eyes went to the charm box that hung at her neck. "We'll see," he said.

"Tara Lynn is no simple Mongol child," she reminded him, "but an American girl with a will of her own."

He laughed. "If you're so clever, why distribute all your money to passing travelers? That letter you gave the camel-puller last night is in my pocket. Keep your money; then if you do escape you'll have some cash to use."

"Perhaps you're right," she agreed after a moment. "I shall learn to adapt myself to the country through which I must escape." She accepted a bowl of salt, buttery tea from the lama cook and drank it down determinedly.

Watching her, Temu laughed again and rose. "We must be going."

They soon caught up with the caravan. Lynn was surprised when, suddenly, they came to the end of the sand and entered a hilly country of rubble formation supporting a scant growth of wiry, yellow shrub.

An hour of travel up and down—and always more up and down—finally brought them to the winding level floor of a grassy depression sunk between bare craggy mountains of scintillating reds and yellows and lavenders. It was warmer here, protected from the winds and flooded by sunbeams untempered by clouds of dust from the feet of traveling animals.

The caravan spread out and advanced at a quickening pace as if anticipating a perfect camping ground. They rounded a curve, and there ahead, towered the temple-monastery of Pailichao.

Temu Darin rode up beside Lynn. "Beautiful, isn't it?" he said in a low voice.

They saw horsemen descend from the monastery and gallop towards them.

"Sherlock is coming to meet us," Temu said. "He and the abbot, and there may be a Swedish explorer with them. There is something about this Mongolian country that seems to attract the Swedes. Perhaps, they're Genghis Khan's warriors coming home. There may even be some Swedish strain in me."

She turned to him curiously. "Don't you know?" she asked. He shook his head.

"Soldier's Heart" Cure Reported to Army Doctors

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 11.—Soldier's heart—a disease producing a condition akin to stage fright—has been treated successfully by "short-circuiting" the system controlling human energy, the Association of U. S. Military Surgeons was told yesterday as it opened a three-day convention.

The treatment was described in a paper by Brig. Gen. George Crile, noted surgeon who helped found the Cleveland clinic, and Dr. E. P. McCullagh, clinic colleague.

Soldier's heart, so called because of its prevalence in the military forces during the World War, actually is a disease found only in man, in his most civilized state, the surgeons reported. Its symptoms were described as "palpitations," nervousness, restlessness, flushing and pallor, sweating and coldness of hands and feet.

"It involves the precise mechanism that executes fear, flight and fight," Dr. Crile said.

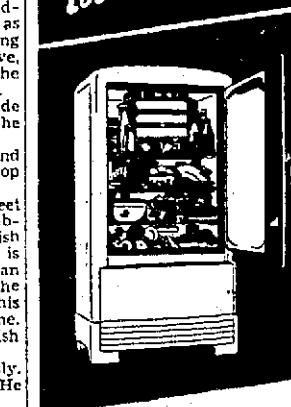

Concluding the disease was an abnormality of the system controlling energy—the brain, thyroid and adrenal glands and the sympathetic nervous system—Dr. Crile reasoned that breaking the circuit of the system might effect a cure.

He cut a nerve center of the sympathetic nervous system, located near the adrenal glands. The effect, he said, was to denervate the adrenals. He reported cure or improvement in 107 out of 114 cases treated.

"The state of struggle, the atmosphere of competition, that surrounds and drives civilized man in his daily life may produce the disease," he declared.

"In some instances the restraining influence that balances heightening human beings is suddenly disrupted; the victim fights himself, exhibiting all the phenomena of a great fear."

COURTHOUSE ELECTRICAL FLAG GETTING REPAIRS

Commissioners Let Contract for Reconditioning Work.

Marion's most prominently displayed flag, in the form of an electrical sign erected over the south entrance to the courthouse, is being reconditioned.

Workmen this week began painting and repairing the flag. They are replacing metal sections that had rusted out and are giving the outfit a complete overhauling. The work was to be completed this week.

The commissioners reported the sign probably will be lighted for several hours each Saturday night, on holiday nights and special occasions.

The work is being done by the Berg-Bland Co. of 137 South State street, who received a contract award on a low bid of $75. The sign, workmen reported, measures about eight by ten feet and requires about 200 light bulbs for illumination.

Heatproof glass covers have been invented for saucers to enable their contents to be watched.

For Saturday, Oct. 12
RAPID developments of an exciting and drastic force may be looked for on this day under the impetus of a high acceleration of planetary operations. Especially does all relating to writing, publishing, advertising and promotional enterprises move with swift and far reaching effect on perhaps lagging or static situations.

Those whose birthday it is are assured of a lively year with much swift action if not drastic events in business, new contracts, and all manner of promotions. Particularly under high stimuli will be mental work, fresh plans.

A child born on this day should be exceedingly talented and versatile, with brilliant intellect, fitting it for a professional career.

Music-Loving Bears Plague Sportsmen in Maine Fall Inventory for Big League Fans

Associated Press Feature Service
Maine hunters have reported many bears turning on radios and listening to swing music as they come in their search for food. They like to clog the highways and are interested in knowing the names of the bands and the names of the players. The bears are also interested in the names of the players and the names of the bands. The bears are also interested in the names of the players and the names of the bands.

Fish and Game Warden Fred Roberts returned to his camp and found kettles and pans strewn about the yard. He traced to the door of the cabin but was knocked sprawling by a half grown bear coming out. While he fumbled for his revolver, a larger bear came crashing through a window and vanished into the woods. Entering the cabin, Roberts found the place wrecked and considerable food destroyed. A radio on the table bore claw marks and was pouring forth the strains of a New York night club band. Evidently, the warden had butted in on quite a party. It is believed many of the great numbers of bears are coming over from Canada. Hunters are happy about it, but anglers, farmers and campers are frightened—and pretty angry to boot.

Big League Fans

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK — Before tucking the ball clubs away among the camphor balls, let's see what each of the major league outfits will need when they start house cleaning next spring. Let's start with the Giants. Bill Terry let the club die before his eyes and now must acquire almost an entire new outfit. His minimum requirements are three pitchers, three infielders and two outfielders. That's a large order and one which he is not likely to fill in a hurry because he has nothing to offer in trade. Worse still, he has nothing worth while coming up from the farm clubs. The Phils have two good pitchers but they need virtually everything else to get anywhere. Therefore, you may expect to see cash and players going to the Phils for either Hugh Mulcahy or Walter Higbe. The Cubs, Giants and Dodgers are in the market for Higbe and the Dodgers probably have more to offer than the others.

TWO BIG TEN GAMES MAY BE TITLE CLUE

O. S. U.-Northwestern, Iowa-Wisconsin Tills Watched.
By The Associated Press
Another tip-off on the title complexities the 1936 season may hold for the Big Ten comes up tomorrow when Ohio State meets Northwestern, with a veteran backfield and a rebuilt line, steps into the picture in a game also certain to test the heavily manned Buckeyes. Not since 1933, the year when they won their only undisputed crown, have the Wildcats scored against Ohio State. However, they are confident of carrying this dereliction at Evanston tomorrow, in view of last week's 40-0 rehearsal against Syracuse. Only though Dick Richards, captain and quarterback, presented fresh cause for anxiety last night when he injured his side. However, it was indicated that he would be in the lineup. In the only other conference game, critics expect to obtain a more definite clue on Eddie Anderson's revised Iowa squad, the Cinderella club of last year which opened 1935 play with a 48-0 conquest of South Dakota. Similarly, they expect to find an explanation to Wisconsin's decisive 33-19 triumph over Marquette last week. The Badger victory might not have surprised some quarters, but its decisiveness did, particularly after injuries and other circumstances earlier in the season had served to deplete the Wisconsin ranks. Iowa began its rise to heights last season after whipping Wisconsin 19-13. Some observers are wondering if the Badgers, still an unknown quantity, might reverse the procedure this year. Keeping a particular eye on the four rivals in conference combat tomorrow will be Minnesota and Indiana. They play them all before the season is over. Minnesota is idle Saturday, but other members are in action, most of them bidding for interconference prestige. Michigan goes to Harvard, Illinois entertains Southern California, Indiana and Nebraska, which settled for ties in two previous meetings, try again at Lincoln. Purdue plays at Michigan State.

GRINDER CRITICAL
By The Associated Press
CINCINNATI, Oct. 11—William Gray, 19-year-old high school senior, fought for his life last night when Garfield Heights police tried to help him. Twenty-five minutes after the attack, the police ordered when his condition became critical. Three hours later, Gray suffered a heart attack and died in practice.

LONG-LINED COACHES
It has been banded around that Ohio State is the toughest college in the country on its football coaches. Well, the present crop seems to be holding up pretty well under the pressure. Line Coach Ernie Godfrey has been there 12 years, Head Coach Francis Schmidt seven years, and Freshman Coach Fritz Mackay, six years. The other three, End Coach Sid Gillman, Backfield Coach Ed Bliekke, and Assistant Line Coach Gomer Jones, have been on hand three seasons.

LINEMAN PRAISES BACKS
You've heard about the linemen getting the bruises, while the backs get the glory? Well, listen to what Jim (Abajaba) Alondis, Kent State's towering tackle, has to say about it—"Everybody takes cuts at the ball carrier. He gets knocked down, stepped on, piled on and roughed. When he tries a pass he has to stand there unprotected and let opposing linemen bust him. To heck with a position where a man can't protect himself a little. I'll take the line, where the going's easy."

Martel News
MARTEL—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Strouse entertained Mrs. Jessie Strouse, of Fruitland, Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hill of near Monette, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Conrad and children of Marion, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Reed and family of Mt. Gilead were Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Reed. Mrs. Emma Myers and Loren Hostler of Mansfield were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Sarah Pinyard. Roy Pinyard and Margaret Jackson both of Martel, were married Saturday, Oct. 5 at Greenup, Ky. They plan to make their home in Martel. Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Newman of near Bucyrus entertained Saturday evening with a chicken supper. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baldinger and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Wyckoff, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Guimes, Mr. and Mrs. Nell Werrick, all of Martel, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Price, and son of New Winchester. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Downs of Caledonia were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Downs.

Prospect News
PROSPECT — Miss Catherine Maidlow spent the week-end at Ottawa and Pandora. Miss Mazie Bevis, Mrs. E. K. Powell and Mrs. W. H. Herr spent a few days this week in Anderson and Muncie, Ind. Mr. and Mrs. Jay Merchant and daughter of Columbus spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Merchant. Mrs. Irma Watting visited Mr. and Mrs. Hugh K. Clifton and son in Ravenna from Wednesday until Monday. Mrs. Cradon Sobers and sons Thed and Brad are visiting with relatives in Sharon, Pa. Miss Mary Frances Cohagen is spending a few weeks at the home of her parents in Zanesville. Jay Fred Lauer, a student at Miami university at Oxford, O., spent the week-end at his home here. Miss Jane Mayfield returned to her home in Canton Sunday after spending last week here. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Freeman of Washington, D. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Thomas spent the week-end with relatives in Parkersburg, W. Va. The Athletics need three pitchers, three infielders and an outfielder. And when we say a club needs a pitcher, we don't mean just any pitcher. We mean one who can win at least a majority of the games he starts. The Senators need two pitchers, a shortstop and an outfielder. The White Sox could use an infielder, an outfielder and another pitcher. The Yanks need two pitchers and an infielder. And they have them. In fact, they have more than they need coming up and Joe McCarthy is therefore in a pleasant trading position. If the Browns had two more pitchers they would be hard to take. The Indians could use another pitcher, an infielder and an outfielder. There are many who believe the Indians need a manager more than anything else. Well, good managers are not hard to find, and they'll have one. The Tigers could use another second baseman, a third baseman, and a shortstop.
